Description

Opterna faceplates are manufactured of highly stable fire retardant and high density plastics which ensure product durability. It comes with a combination of 1, 2, 3 and 4 ports for your application and to satisfy your customer's needs.

Opterna faceplates are available in two series; the elegant series of Opterna faceplates comes with a peripheral frame providing an elegant appearance where in the screw holes are concealed by the peripheral frame. Part of the design is the integrated label holder which allows the installer to fix labels and hence making the faceplate TIA 606 compliant.

The faceplate comes with an in-built shutter to prevent dust and dampness protection. The angled design of faceplate maintains the patch cords bend radius and provides extra room behind the back box for storage of cable. The angled faceplate is highly recommended for Category 6 and 6A shielded installations. Other variants of the faceplate series are the floor box adaptors available in straight and angled.
